Charles Hadd

Dear Charles,

We have been using your Perma-Guard Fossil Shell Flour in our Holstein bull calf raising operation for the last year or so. We are a small operation and raise about 200 calves a month. As you know, scours is the principal problem in raising day old calves. We have found that using your product at the rate of 1 oz. per gallon of milk for the first 2 weeks has helped to keep the scours under control. We also use it for individuals that need additional help in temporary situations with added concentrations. It has been a steady help in our nutrition program.

Sincerely yours,

Roy Sharp
